COX & KINGS

— EST  1758 —

Welcome to the New Year 2022 edition of the World of Cox & Kings

A warm welcome to 2022, and to the return of travel.

I'm delighted to say that exploring the world is easier now than at any time in the past two years. Re-opened borders, reduced testing requirements and vaccine rollouts have paved the way for holidays far and wide. What better time to book that special adventure abroad?

In this edition of The World of Cox & Kings, we showcase a tempting selection of our small-group tours and tailor-made holidays for 2022-23 – alongside significant savings, flagged by the purple offer label throughout. A Nile cruise aboard an aristocratic sailboat; a grand tour from Lake Titicaca to Copacabana; a guided journey to each point on Sri Lanka's Cultural Triangle... all this and more awaits.

Many of our most popular small-group tours boast dates that are guaranteed to depart, indicated throughout the brochure with a 'G'. Solo travellers can also save more by travelling with us; the first three solo places on many departures feature no single supplements (indicated by 'NSS' throughout).

Your wellbeing remains our top priority, which is why we're ensuring only guests fully vaccinated against COVID-19 can travel on a Cox & Kings group tour. We're also making sure the staff you interact with comply with a robust vaccination and testing regime, allowing you not only to book with confidence, but to travel with confidence, too.

Wishing you good health and happy travels,

Kerry Golds
Managing Director

But don't just take our word for it; our client testimonials speak for themselves:

Service that goes the extra mile

"Knowledgeable staff and excellent service that goes the extra mile'. I have been on several holidays through Cox and Kings over the last 20 years and have always been more than satisfied."
